Statement by Mr. P. Krishna Menon on behalf of the Members.

Mr. P. Krishna Menon.—Sir, this is the last meeting of the third Cochin Legislative Council and now that the business of the Session has come to a close the Council is to be dissolved. This is also the last meeting of the Council to be held under your august Presidentship and I feel it my proud and pleasant duty on behalf of the Members of this Council to convey to you, Sir, our sincere and respectful tribute of appreciation for the ideal manner in which you have been guiding the deliberations of this body while jealously guarding its rights and privileges. You have always been a valiant champion of the constitutional rights of this House. There has not been a single instance wherein you have restricted the freedom of speech or expression of any Hon'ble Member of this House. Your rulings too as the President, have always been such as have provided the fullest scope for all shades of opinion being ventilated. (Hear, hear).

"The grant of the right of electing a non-official member of the House as the Deputy President, the privilege of putting supplementary questions, the grant of a wider franchise, the creation of healthy conventions in the conduct of debates and the greater response shown in giving effect to the resolutions passed by the Council are some of the valued and salutary reforms for which your career as Diwan-President will ever be remembered. (Hear, hear). And may I not with pardonable pride trust that in the discharge of our duties we have in our humble way helped you in your own words "In carrying on the business of the House in that orderly and dignified manner which has been the tradition of this House for the last one decade".

The Legislative Council of few other Indian States enjoy similar constitutional privileges as we do and we feel sanguine that His Highness our Gracious and beloved Maharaja, who in his recent utterances have reiterated that "it is Our (His Highness') desire to provide for the welfare and happiness" of his subjects will be only too much pleased to confer on this House further rights and privileges that would ensure for us a more effective voice in the administration of the State and an ever increasing association of the people in the Government of the country. (Hear, hear).

Your name, Sir, will for all time be linked with the history of this popular institution as one of its illustrious Presidents (Hear, hear). We trust that wherever you may be placed you will watch the growth of this institution with which you have been associated for over four years with tenderness and affection. We wish you, Sir, all success in the new scene of your labours and a prosperous career of greater service and ever increasing usefulness. (Applause, loud and continued).
